CHARVEL CLAWSON,

Plaintiff,

vs.

ANDERSON INVESTMENT
CORPORATION, a Utah Corporation, John
Does I – X, XYZ Corporations and/or Limited Liability Companies I – X.

Defendants.

COMPLAINT

Case No. 2:17-CV-112-PMW

Magistrate Judge Paul M. Warner

Plaintiff Charvel Clawson, by and through her attorney Matthew B. Crane of Ford & Crane PLLC hereby files complaint against Anderson Investment Corporation, a Utah corporation, John Does I – X, Corporations I – X and/or Limited Liability Companies I – X, and alleges as follows:

INTRODUCTION

1. This action seeks redress against Defendants in the form of declaratory relief and a permanent injunction to enjoin Defendants' unlawful violation of Title III of the Americans with Disabilities Act¹ (the "ADA" or the "Act"), along with attorney's fees and costs as allowed by the Act², as well as causes of action under Utah State law as set forth below. Defendants maintain illegal architectural barriers to access on their premises and have failed to make necessary modifications to allow persons with disabilities to fully enjoy the goods and services offered to the general public as required by the ADA³.

2. On July 21, 1990, the United States Department of Justice issued design standards to be implemented in the construction of new buildings (the "1991 Standard"). These regulations are titled as the ADA Standards for Accessible Design and are codified at 28 C.F.R. Part 36. Appendix A to Part 36 contains the ADA Accessibility Guidelines (referred to herein as "ADAAG"), which are the technical requirements to which buildings constructed on or after January 26, 1991 but before September 15, 2010 must adhere to in order to comply with the ADA.

³ 42 U.S.C. §12182(a).

3. On September 15, 2010, the Department of Justice revised the ADA Standards for Accessible Design and the ADAAG, which revisions are codified at 28 C.F.R. Part 36, subpart D and Part 1191 (the “2010 Standard”). The 2010 Standard applies to buildings constructed or altered in a relevant manner after March 15, 2012. Buildings constructed or altered on or after September 15, 2010 but before March 15, 2012 must comply with either the 1991 or 2010 Standard.

4. Any site that has undergone relevant renovations since March 2012 must fully comply with the 2010 Standard, rather than maintaining compliance with the 1991 Standard alone.⁴

5. Even if the non-conforming barriers were constructed prior to 1990, places of public accommodation must comply with the 1991 Standard if compliance is readily achievable.⁵

6. Title III of the ADA specifically governs barriers to access in places of public accommodation operated by private entities such as Defendants.

7. Defendants’ unlawful violations of the ADA also constitute a nuisance as defined by Utah Code Ann. §78B-6-1101(1) which defines the term as “anything which is injurious to health, indecent, offensive to the senses, or an obstruction to the free use of property, so as to interfere with the comfortable enjoyment of life or property.” Any person whose health, use of property and/or personal enjoyment is lessened by an obstruction may bring suit to enjoin or abate the nuisance and recover damages under Utah Law.

⁴ 28 C.F.R. 36.406(a).

⁵ 42 U.S.C. §12182(b)(2)(A)(iv).

PARTIES, JURISDICTION AND VENUE

9. Plaintiff has been diagnosed with multiple sclerosis or “MS” which is an unpredictable, disabling disease of the central nervous system.
10. As a result of MS, Plaintiff suffers from several common MS symptoms including fatigue, weakness, dizziness, pain and difficulties with walking and mobility.
11. Plaintiff previously worked as an adjunct professor teaching psychology at Brigham Young University but has been unable to work for the past several years due to complications from MS.
12. Plaintiff currently receives federal disability benefits.
13. Because of Plaintiff’s disability and impairments described above, she must use a wheel chair for mobility.
14. Defendant Anderson Investment Corporation (“Anderson Investment”) is a Utah corporation that owns the real property located at 790 E. 2100 S. in Salt Lake City, Utah (the “Premises”).
15. Upon information and belief, Defendant Anderson Investment leases commercial space on the Premises to multiple businesses, including The Original Pancake House.
16. The Premises is a “place of public accommodation” subject to the requirements of Title III of the ADA.
17. This Court has jurisdiction over this matter pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §1331, §2201 and 42 U.S.C. §12188.

18. Venue is proper in this Court pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §1391(b) and (c) as Plaintiff's claims arose in this district and Defendants conduct business herein.

FACTUAL ALLEGATIONS

19. Plaintiff incorporates the foregoing paragraphs herein.

20. Title III of the Americans with Disabilities Act expressly prohibits discrimination on the basis of disability in the full and equal enjoyment of the goods, services, privileges or accommodations by any person that owns, leases or operates any place of public accommodation.⁶

21. Under the ADA, failure to remove architectural barriers to access by disabled persons, where readily achievable, constitutes discrimination.⁷

22. Plaintiff Charvel Clawson lives with a permanent disability and must use a wheelchair for mobility.

23. Defendants own the Premises and/or lease space or operates a business located at the Premises. Defendants offer goods and services to the general public and the Premises is a place of public accommodation as defined by C.F.R. §36.104 and 42 U.S.C. §12181(7).

24. Plaintiff has visited the Premises and has encountered barriers to access, which makes it impossible for her to fully enjoy the goods and services offered.

25. The architectural barriers to access on Defendants' Premises include, but are not limited to, the following:

⁶ 42 U.S.C. §12182(b)(2)(A)(iv).

⁷ 42 U.S.C. §12181(2)(A).

26. The Premises has no van accessible sign that meet the requirements of ADAAG.⁸
27. The location of the ramp in the access aisle causes the surface areas in the access aisle to have slopes exceeding the 1:48/2.083% (2010) and 1:50/2% (1991) maximum allowed by ADAAG (with slopes as great as 10.0%).⁹
28. The accessible route from accessible parking at the Premises to the entrance cross barriers to access including cracks, gaps and uneven surfaces that violate rules against changes in level under ADAAG.¹⁰
29. Accessible parking spaces and their access aisles have surface areas with slopes exceeding the 1:48/2.083% (2010) and 1:50/2% (1991) maximum allowed by ADAAG (with slopes as great as 2.9%).¹¹
30. Removal of the architectural barriers to access is readily achievable and could be completed by Defendants without significant difficulty or expense.
31. No notice to Defendants is required under ADAAG as a result of Defendants' failure to cure the violations contained herein during the many decades since ADAAG's adoption. Congress did not require disabled people to beg for access—the duty lies with the property owner and business to comply with the law.

⁸ 1991 Standard §§4.7.2, 4.7.5.; 2010 Standard §§406.2, 406.3, 406.4, 502.2, 502.3, 502.4.

⁹ 1991 Standard §§4.3.7, 4.6.3, 4.6.6, 2010 Standard §§403.3, 502.4

¹⁰ 1991 Standard §4.3; 2010 Standard §303.

¹¹ 1991 Standard §4.6.3; 2010 Standard §502.4.

32. Plaintiff eats at the Original Pancake House restaurant located at the Premise regularly as it is one of her favorite places to eat.

33. The barriers to access on the Premises exclude persons with disabilities such as Plaintiff from full and equal enjoyment of the goods, services, privileges and accommodations offered by Defendants.

34. As a result of Defendants' unlawful architecture and failure to remedy, Plaintiff and other disabled persons are subject to ongoing discrimination due to their disability, as well as embarrassment, distress, indignity and limitations to their personal freedom.

35. Plaintiff's knowledge of the barriers described in this Complaint deterred Plaintiff's access to, or full use and enjoyment of the Premises.

36. Plaintiff believes that the Premises has additional architectural barriers on the interior of the Premises that violate ADAAG and which would require additional inspection and access to the interior of the Premises, which barriers include but are not limited to problems with maneuvering clearance, seating and restrooms. Plaintiff lacks the technical experience and ability to use measuring instruments herself and did not want to disrupt the business operations at the Premises by having her counsel do so without permission from the Defendants and so only exterior measurements were performed at the Premises that would not alarm or interfere with other patrons of the Premises. Plaintiff experienced difficulty with the areas described in this paragraph and therefore has a reasonable belief that they include architectural barriers. Counsel would like to meet representatives of the Defendants at the Premises to do a full inspection to document other violations of ADAAG. Plaintiff intends make a motion for the inspection of real property, seeking a full inspection of the Premises to allow more specific pleading regarding violations of ADAAG not specifically detailed herein.

37. Plaintiff incorporates the foregoing paragraphs herein.

38. Title III of the Americans with Disabilities Act expressly prohibits discrimination on the basis of disability in the full and equal enjoyment of the goods, services, privileges or accommodations by any person owns, leases or operates any place of public accommodations.¹²

39. Defendants own, lease and/or operate a place of public accommodation and are subject to the requirements of Title III of the ADA¹³.

40. Under the ADA, failure to remove architectural barriers to access by disabled persons, where readily achievable, constitutes discrimination.¹⁴

41. The Department of Justice defined “readily achievable” as meaning “easily accomplishable and able to be carried out without much difficulty or expense”¹⁵.

42. Defendants have engaged in discriminatory practices by: 1) failing to construct their facility in a way that is readily accessible to persons with disabilities, 2) failing to comply with ADA guidelines when remodeling facilities, 3) failing to remove architectural barriers to access, where removal is readily achievable and 4) operating their facility in a way which does not allow disabled persons to fully and equally access the goods and services provided to the general public.

¹⁴ 42 U.S.C. §12181(2)(A).

¹⁵ 28 C.F.R. 6.304(a).

43. Defendants have continued their discriminatory practices against persons with disabilities by refusing or otherwise failing to remove architectural barriers to access.

44. Because of Defendants' unlawful conduct, Plaintiff and other disabled persons have been subjected to discrimination by being unable to fully and equally access the goods, services and facilities offered to the general public, to the fullest extent possible. Plaintiff and other disabled persons continue to be irreparably harmed as the discrimination is ongoing.

45. Plaintiff is entitled to a permanent injunction requiring Defendants to correct each violation of the ADA identified herein pursuant to 42 U.S.C. §12188(a).

52. “An action may be brought by any person whose property is injuriously affected, or whose personal enjoyment is lessened by the nuisance.”¹⁶ “Upon judgment, the nuisance may be enjoined or abated, and damages may be recovered.”¹⁷

53. Defendants’ failure to remove architectural barriers to access by persons with disabilities, as required by the ADA, has created a public nuisance which injuriously affects persons with disabilities and interferes with their personal enjoyment.

54. Plaintiff’s personal enjoyment of life has been lessened by the nuisance, thus she is entitled to bring suit and recover damages, including damages for pain and suffering.

55. Plaintiff is entitled to an award of attorney’s fees and costs incurred in bringing this suit under Utah Code Ann. §78B-6-1114.
